VETERINARY NEURO SERVICES ESTABLISHES FUND TO ASSIST CLIENTS WHO NEED HELP WITH COST OF MEDICAL CARE FOR PETS

SARASOTA, Fla., April 15, 2008 -- Veterinary Neuro Services has established a fund to assist pet owners who cannot afford the cost of neurology care for their pets.

Veterinary Neuro Services will match dollar for dollar all monies donated to its Pet Neuro Good Samaritan Fund, according to Dr. Anne Chauvet, founder of Veterinary Neuro Services.

“We are very appreciative of the generous contributions we have received from members of the Florida Dachshund Rescue group,” Chauvet said. “These funds already have helped three dogs that needed disc surgeries.”

Matching dollars from the fund are available to those with limited financial resources who have been declined for credit. The monies also will only be used in instances where the pet is likely to recover with a good quality of life, such as back surgeries for disc problems as opposed to advanced-stage cancers, Chauvet said.

Veterinary Neuro Services is also accepting donations from others who wish to support those who cannot afford the cost of veterinary care.
